EARLY DAYS IN WEST TEXAS.

Uncle Jap Brown was in town Saturday from Detroit and was an appreciated visitor at the Signal office. It is always a pleasure to have Uncle Jap come in. He has been in the West a long time and has a wide range of knowledge of times and people in this region. His young days were spent in the country about Compt, Waco, Jank, Parker and other places and he took part in many stirring events from 1855 up into the 60's and helped to wrest that country from Indian control.

He takes much interest in the writings of Capt. McDaniel which appear in the Signal every month. The descriptions of the Indian raids and soldier activities at old Fort Graham are of special interest to him because of his early knowledge of that locality.

Uncle Jap says the country about Graham was the home of thousands of Indians. He reckons that a thousand of them were born in that region. The soldiers were stationed there to drive them out and when Fort Hill was established it put Fort Graham out of business.

Uncle Jap remembers how the Indians used to come from the Territory and steal stock and commit other depredations. They seemed to prefer that part of the west for their activities. They were young, brave and some of them had been raised there and knew the country thoroughly. Uncle Jap remembers when three Indians made a raid and two were captured and one killed. The two prisoners were prosecuted by Sam Latham, who was then a district attorney. They were sent to the penitentiary. After a few years the Indians were pardoned and went back to raising stock. The soldiers got after them again and killed one and captured the other, who soon afterwards died in prison.

There were strenuous times in the west. A constant life of dread and uncertainty, of hardships and privations the foundation upon which has been built a dense population of a prosperous and progressive civilization. The soldiers and the few brave citizens that were there then possibly had little thought that they would live to see so much development.

EVVANS.

One of the coldest spells of the winter has been prevailing for the last four or five days.

Mr. Horton just recently moved from East Texas and intended making a crop on F. C. Alsworth place in the Arab neighborhood was taken down with pneumonia last week and died Sunday and was buried in the Evans. Cemetery Monday. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his departure. May God in His infinite wisdom keep guide and cherish them in their sad hours. He was a member of the Christian church and a W. O. W. Pinned services were conducted at the grave by Rev. J. H. Tate.

We are glad to report Mr. A. A. Freeman has recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Lee Henson of Snyder spent Sunday and Monday here visiting old time friends.

Mr. G. W. Hardin was called Monday by the bedside of his father, who died at Snyder.

Mr. G. W. Nott returned Monday from his old home in Ala., where he spent the holidays with his parents.

Mrs. Fry of Abilene, Texas, mother of our fellow countryman, came in Sunday for a few weeks visit with her son and family.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Fry on the 15th, a boy, all doing well.

This part of the country is about to pass out from under the hardy type and the health of the country is about normal.

Mr. J. W. Knight returned Monday from Elida, N. M., where he spent the holidays with his family.

The play "The Girl and the Tramp," Fred Myers newest and brightest offering, with Phil Mann and Fred Myers himself playing the title roles, business interesting from the start. It does not hit or hurt you, never tiresome, for every pathetic scene is followed by rich, clean comedy. This starts a ripple of laughter which gives you a chance to brush away a tear. It's a treat to the theatrical-going public who have been burdened with trashy plays. As an added attraction there will be eight big song hits. Coming Monday January 24th, at Opera House.

WOOL GROWERS ENDORSE SMITH'S WORK IN CONGRESS

For his splendid efforts towards securing legislation in congress for the eradication of fever ticks and scab as well as predatory animals in West Texas, the Wool Growers Central Storage Co. in session at San Angelo, last week endorsed the work already done along this line by Congressman W. H. Smith and pledged him its hearty co-operation in any further movements in the same end. Thanks were also rendered Senator Morris Sheppard for like activities. Following several preambles reciting the valuable service of Judge Smith had already rendered the wool growing interests of his district, the following was unanimously adopted:

"Now therefore, be it Resolved, that the individual stockholders of the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company, being practical sheep and cattle men of Western Texas, do hereby express our high appreciation and gratitude to the said W. H. Smith for the services which he has rendered, as in the past and this we urge him to continue his efforts in the future, and that he will apply for sufficient appropriation in Congress to make a successful fight against the disease threatening the herds of Western Texas, and that we pledge him to dividuality and collectively our hearty support and encouragement in any undertaking which he may make in an effort to secure appropriations for the benefit of the West Texas sheep and cattle men."—Colorado Record

"The Girl and the Tramp," the title selected for Mr. Myers' new play, suggests much that is prevalent in New York, both in the social and the business world. The action of the first two acts takes place in New York, and of the last two, in Mexico. The leading roles of the "Girl" and the "Tramp" Miss Mann and Mr. Myers have parts in which strong, dramatic scenes predominate, with a dash of humor to offset the seriousness of the situations. Plenty of comedy fits deftly into the play, with bits and there touches of tragic interest. The scenic inventory of the play is so appropriate that people are enthusiastic in their praise. Mr. Myers and Miss Mann have surrounded themselves with a most capable company, and the entire production is even more successful than their offerings of previous seasons. At Snyder Opera House, Monday, January 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butler who have been living in Snyder several months have returned to Herculais to reside. Mr. Butler was employed with one of the firms in Snyder the past season. —Herculais Times
